Frequently Asked Questions

What are GV LIVE Classes?

Connect with your GV instructor and participate in your regular GV classes using ZOOM. Our interactive platform allows you to practise your English skills, ask and answer questions, and learn from our instructors just like you would do in our real-life classrooms.

What online resources can I access?

GV LIVE provides students with digital and/or online resources to enhance their language learning with practice activities and exercises that they can complete at their own pace. A Select List of Online Resources is distributed to new students in class for further self-study opportunities.

Who teaches GV LIVE Classes?

GV LIVE Classes are taught by GV's experienced and passionate teachers – the same great people who have been teaching in our real-life classrooms!

Are GV LIVE classes interactive?

Our GV LIVE classes are totally interactive. Students can ask and answer questions either by speaking directly, or using the chat window. In addition, Zoom provides a feature that allows teachers to assign students to “breakout rooms” for smaller group work. Students can interact together in their breakout room and the teacher can drop in any time to see how things are going before bringing the whole class back together to continue discussions and learning.

How many students are in a class?

GV Hawaii classes have a maximum student number of 16; however, class sizes may vary depending on the particular class.

What is the class schedule?

In our GV LIVE classes, one lesson is 50 minutes long, the same length as in our face-to-face classes. GV LIVE Classes have the same class times as our face-to-face student classes.

How do students submit homework?

Students may be asked either to email homework to their instructor, or to submit their homework through the chat feature in Zoom. Homework will typically be reviewed together as a class.

Do GV LIVE classes include weekly quizzes?

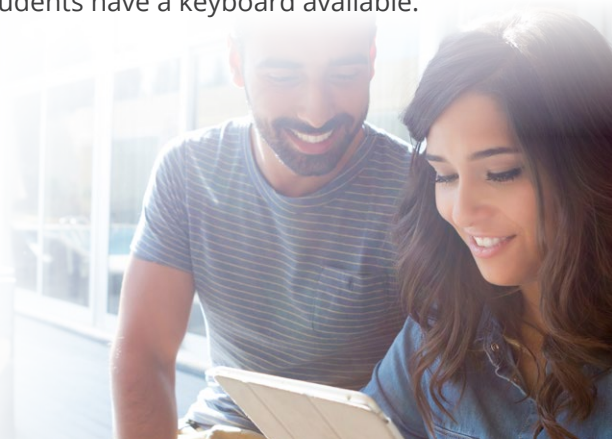

Yes, students will still complete weekly quizzes (e.g. competency checks), just like in our face-to-face classes. Quizzes are managed directly through Zoom during the class time.

Do I need to use the video function to join my GV LIVE classes?

In GV LIVE classes, our teachers create a friendly classroom atmosphere where students can relax, share personal stories, and make friends from around the world. When you study in a virtual classroom, the video function is an important part of connecting with your classmates and creating rapport. It helps create an experience that's similar to GV's real life classroom experience. For the best GV LIVE class experience for you and your classmates, we strongly encourage using video.

For the best experience, how should I connect to GV LIVE classes?

While students can connect from any internet-connected location, on any device, students will have the best experience if they connect using a desktop or laptop computer with a strong and stable internet connection. For classes that focus on speaking, students may feel comfortable using their mobile phone. However, for classes that may require some writing, it will be easier to participate if students have a keyboard available.

I feel like the distance between my friends and I, or my teachers and myself is very close when we are in the online class. We can talk to each other any time; we can ask any questions to my teachers, any time. So that's why I think I can speak a lot as if I'm in a face-to-face class.
